WEBSITE AND GENERAL INQUIRY PRIVACY DISCLOSURES

GEOGRAPHIC DISCLAIMER

IFP is located within the State of Florida, USA and provides its Services exclusively to customers within the United States. IFP does not market to or otherwise solicit information of any kind from individuals located outside of the United States, including the European Union and United Kingdom. Any use of this Website from outside of the United States is entirely at your own risk.

WHAT INFORMATION DOES IFP COLLECT ON THE WEBSITE?

The information that we collect from you on our Website or through a general inquiry that you communicate to us either on the Website or by otherwise contacting us depends upon your interactions with us and whether you are a IFP customer or financial professional as detailed more fully below:

- Our Website enables you to Get In Touch with IFP and if you choose to complete the applicable web form, we will collect your first name, last name, email address, phone number (optional), and the content of any message that you choose to provide us (collectively, "General Inquiry Information").
- If you are interested in any career opportunities that may be available with IFP and click the Careers hyperlink on our Website, you will be redirected to a third party website where you have the option to explore any open positions and to Easy Apply through the LinkedIn social media platform. We will collect your resume, including any relevant educational information, professional experience, contact information, and we will have access to any information contained on your LinkedIn profile (collectively, "Applicant Information").
- You can follow IFP on social media and our Website includes hyperlinks to our LinkedIn, Instagram, Facebook, Twitter, and YouTube accounts. If you contact us through one of our social media accounts, we will collect your username, first and last name (if applicable to the social media platform), and the content of any message that you choose to include when contacting us (collectively, "Social Media Inquiry Information").

Internet Cookies

IFP's Website uses internet cookies. Internet cookies are small data files that are deployed from a web server to your computing device when you visit a Website. Internet cookies enable the collection of certain data in connection with your visit to the Website. An overview of the types of internet cookies utilized on our Website is included below:

- Strictly Necessary Cookies – Our Website utilizes strictly necessary cookies to enable the Website to function and to display our content. We use strictly necessary cookies to enable you to fill out web forms and submit information to us and to address core functionality, including managing web traffic to the Website, security, and accessibility.
- Analytics Cookies – We utilize a third party analytics service provider to collect analytics information regarding users to our Website. These internet cookies collect information from you including your internet protocol address, a unique identifier, the time and date you arrived on our Website, the duration of your visit to our Website, your computing device type, internet browser name and version, and the domain of your internet service provider (collectively, "Usage Information").
- Marketing Pixels – IFP utilizes tracking pixels which collect information from users that visit IFP while logged into their social media account, which we utilize for targeted email advertising. The information that is collected from marketing pixels includes your social media account username or identifier (collectively, "Pixel Information").

Depending upon your internet web browser or computing device, you may have the option to block or reject internet cookies from being deployed to your computing device. Please consult your computing device's or internet web browser's help file for more information regarding your options for internet cookies. Please note that if you choose to block or reject internet cookies, some functionality on the Website will no longer function and the Website may not be displayed as intended.

HOW DOES IFP USE THE INFORMATION THAT IT COLLECTS FROM THE WEBSITE?

The manner in which we use the information that we collect on or through the Website is detailed below:

- We use General Inquiry Information for purposes of responding to your inquiry of us. We will also use General Inquiry Information to communicate with you regarding updates about IFP's services and information and your General Inquiry Information will be stored in our relationship management database. To the extent that you are a financial professional seeking to establish a professional relationship with IFP, we will use your General Inquiry Information to communicate and establish your account.
- Applicant Information is used in connection with our employment screening process, which includes evaluating whether you might be a good candidate for employment, scheduling an interview, and in connection with onboarding if a candidate is selected for employment.
- Social Media Inquiry Information is used for the purpose of responding to your specific inquiry of us. We will also store Social Media Inquiry Information in our database to the extent that you are a client lead or an existing advisor or client of IFP.
- IFP uses the Usage Information collected from internet cookies for its internal business purposes, including (i) detecting and troubleshooting issues with our Website, (ii) understanding basic demographic information regarding those who visit our Website, (iii) evaluating the effectiveness of our marketing and advertising efforts, (iv) identifying the most common computing device and internet browsers to optimize your viewing experience, (iv) for data security and to combat fraud and malicious activities on our Website.
- Pixel Information is utilized for purposes of targeted marketing efforts by IFP.

DOES IFP DISCLOSE THE INFORMATION THAT IT COLLECTS FROM THE WEBSITE TO THIRD PARTIES?

IFP utilizes third party service providers to make the Website and our Services available to you and in working with financial professionals. These third party service provider render services including website and data hosting, software, human resources, telecommunications, marketing, analytics, accounting, billing, and legal services. These third party service providers are only permitted to use the information that we make available to them for purposes of providing their services to IFP.

Unless otherwise required by applicable law, we will disclose the information that we have collected from or about you on our Website under the following circumstances:

PRIVACY POLICY

Legal Process

If IFP is required by applicable law to provide information about you, including in response to a subpoena, warrant, or other legal process, we will comply with any such legal requirement. Please note that IFP reserves the right to assert a legal challenge in the appropriate legal forum in response to any legally compelled disclosure of your information, which shall occur in our sole discretion. Subject to applicable law, we will also disclose information about you that we have collected or otherwise maintain if we determine that such a disclosure is required to protect IFP or the safety of a third party.

Sale or Business Reorganization

If all or substantially all of IFP's assets are acquired by another entity or IFP merges with another organization, then the information that we have collected from and about you in connection with your use of the Website, Services, or both will be among the assets provided to the acquiring entity unless such disclosure is prohibited by applicable law.

CHILDREN'S ONLINE PRIVACY

IFP does not knowingly market to or otherwise solicit Personal Information from children under the age of thirteen. For purposes of this Section of the Policy, the term "Personal Information" has the meaning provided under the Children's Online Privacy Protection Act (15 U.S.C. § 6501, et. al.) and its regulations, which includes first and last name, home or other physical address, email address, telephone number, social security number, or other identifiers. If you are a child under the age of eighteen, please do not submit Personal Information to us on or through the Website. If you are the parent or legal guardian of a child who is under the age of eighteen and you believe that your child may have provided us with Personal Information, please contact us by any of the means provided under the Section "Contact Us," which is located at the bottom of this Policy and we will promptly remove your child's information from our system.

THIRD PARTY HYPERLINKS

Our Website includes a number of hyperlinks to other third party websites that are not owned or operated by IFP (each, a "Third Party Website"). These Third Party Websites are provided for your convenience and for informational purposes only. You hereby acknowledge and agree that IFP has no control over any of the content, information, business, or privacy practices of any Third Party Website, including any products or services that may be available on or through any such Third Party Website. Your use of any Third Party Website is entirely at your own risk. Under no circumstances whatsoever will IFP be liable to you or any other party in connection with your use of a Third Party Website.

REVISIONS TO THIS POLICY

IFP reserves the right to revise this Policy from time to time in our sole discretion. Each time we revise this Policy, we will update the Date that is listed at the bottom of this Policy. In the event that we make a material change to the manner in which we collect, use, or disclose information, we will post a notice to the main page of our Website to bring this to your attention. It is your responsibility to regularly check this Policy for any updates. Unless otherwise prohibited by applicable law, changes to this Policy will become effective upon their posting. Your use of the Website following any change to this Policy shall constitute your unconditional acceptance of any change. If you disagree with a revision, then you must immediately cease your use of the Website.

STATE-SPECIFIC DISCLOSURES

IFP PRIVACY POLICY FOR CALIFORNIA RESIDENTS

Last Modified Date: July 17, 2023

This Privacy Policy for California Residents supplements the information contained in the Policy above and applies solely to all visitors, users, and others who reside in the State of California ("consumers" or "you"). We adopt this notice to comply with the California Consumer Privacy Act of 2018 (CCPA) and any terms defined in the CCPA have the same meaning when used in this Policy.

We obtain the categories of personal information listed above from the following categories of sources:

- Directly from you. For example, from forms you complete for the services that you purchase.
- Indirectly from you. For example, from observing your actions on our Website.

Use of Personal Information

We may use or disclose the personal information that we collect for one or more of the following purposes:

- To fulfill or meet the reason you provided the information. For example, if you share your name and contact information to ask a question about our services, we will use that personal information to respond to your inquiry. If you provide your personal information to purchase a service, we will use that information to process your payment and facilitate delivery. We may also save your information to facilitate new product orders or process returns.
- To provide, support, and develop our Website, and services.
- To create, maintain, customize, and secure your account with us.
- To process your requests, purchases, transactions, and payments and prevent transactional fraud.
- To provide you with support and to respond to your inquiries, including to investigate and address your concerns and monitor and improve our responses.
- To deliver content and product and service offerings relevant to your interests, including targeted offers and ads through our Website, third-party sites, and via email or text message (with your consent, where required by law).
- To help maintain the safety, security, and integrity of our Website, services, databases and other technology assets, and business.
- For testing, research, analysis, and product development, including to develop and improve our Website, and services.
- To respond to law enforcement requests and as required by applicable law, court order, or governmental regulations.
- As described to you when collecting your personal information or as otherwise set forth in the CCPA.
- To evaluate or conduct a merger, divestiture, restructuring, reorganization, dissolution, or other sale or transfer of some or all of our assets, whether as a going concern or as part of bankruptcy, liquidation, or similar proceeding, in which personal information held by us about our consumers and financial partners is among the assets transferred.

We will not collect additional categories of personal information or use the personal information we collected for materially different, unrelated, or incompatible purposes without providing you notice.

PRIVACY POLICY

Sharing Personal Information

We may share your personal information by disclosing it to a third party for a business purpose. We only make these business purpose disclosures under written contracts that describe the purposes, require the recipient to keep the personal information confidential, and prohibit using the disclosed information for any purpose except performing the contract. In the preceding twelve (12) months, Company has disclosed personal information for a business purpose to the categories of third parties indicated in the chart below.

We may also share your personal information by selling it to third parties or sharing it in connection with targeted behavioral advertisement, subject to your right to opt-out of the sharing or those sales. Our personal information sales do not include information about individuals we know are under age 16. In the preceding twelve (12) months, Company has sold the following categories of personal information to the categories of third parties indicated in the chart below]. Your Rights and Choices

The CCPA provides consumers (California residents) with specific rights regarding their personal information. This section describes your CCPA rights and explains how to exercise those rights.

Right to Know and Data Portability

You have the right to request that we disclose certain information to you about our collection and use of your personal information over the past 12 months (the "right to know"). Once we receive your request and confirm your identity (see Exercising Your Rights to Know or Delete), we will disclose to you:

- The categories of personal information we collected about you.
- The categories of sources for the personal information we collected about you.
- Our business or commercial purpose for collecting or selling that personal information.
- The categories of third parties with whom we share that personal information.
- If we sold or disclosed your personal information for a business purpose, two separate lists disclosing:
 - sales, identifying the personal information categories that each category of recipient purchased; and
 - disclosures for a business purpose, identifying the personal information categories that each category of recipient obtained.
- The specific pieces of personal information we collected about you (also called a data portability request).

We do not provide a right to know or data portability disclosure for B2B personal information.

Right to Delete

You have the right to request that we delete any of your personal information that we collected from you and retained, subject to certain exceptions (the "right to delete"). Once we receive your request and confirm your identity (see Exercising Your Rights to Know or Delete), we will review your request to see if an exception allowing us to retain the information applies. We may deny your deletion request if retaining the information is necessary for us or our service provider(s) to:

1. Complete the transaction for which we collected the personal information, provide a good or service that you requested, take actions reasonably anticipated within the context of our ongoing business relationship with you, fulfill the terms of a written warranty or product recall conducted in accordance with federal law, or otherwise perform our contract with you.
2. Detect security incidents, protect against malicious, deceptive, fraudulent, or illegal activity, or prosecute those responsible for such activities.

PRIVACY POLICY

3. Debug products to identify and repair errors that impair existing intended functionality.
4. Exercise free speech, ensure the right of another consumer to exercise their free speech rights, or exercise another right provided for by law.
5. Comply with the California Electronic Communications Privacy Act (Cal. Penal Code § 1546 et. seq.).
6. Engage in public or peer-reviewed scientific, historical, or statistical research in the public interest that adheres to all other applicable ethics and privacy laws, when the information's deletion may likely render impossible or seriously impair the research's achievement, if you previously provided informed consent.
7. Enable solely internal uses that are reasonably aligned with consumer expectations based on your relationship with us.
8. Comply with a legal obligation.
9. Make other internal and lawful uses of that information that are compatible with the context in which you provided it.

We will delete or deidentify personal information not subject to one of these exceptions from our records and will direct our service providers to take similar action.

We do not provide these deletion rights for B2B personal information.

Exercising Your Rights to Know or Delete

To exercise your rights to know or delete described above, please submit a request by either:

Calling us at 1-833-NEED-IFP.

Emailing us at marketing@ifpartners.com.

Only you, or someone legally authorized to act on your behalf, may make a request to know or delete related to your personal information. Only you, or someone legally authorized to act on your behalf, may make a request to know or delete related to your personal information. California consumers may use an authorized agent on their behalf to exercise a privacy right discussed above. If you are an authorized agent acting on behalf of a California consumer to communicate with us or to exercise a privacy right discussed above, you must be able to demonstrate to IFP that you have the requisite authorization to act on behalf of the resident and have sufficient access to their laptop, desktop, or mobile device to exercise these rights digitally. If you are an authorized agent trying to exercise rights on behalf of an IFP consumer, please contact us at the contact information below with supporting verification information, proof that you have access to the consumer's interface, and proof of your own identity.

You may only submit a request to know twice within a 12-month period. Your request to know or delete must:

- Provide sufficient information that allows us to reasonably verify you are the person about whom we collected personal information or an authorized representative, which may include:
 - Requiring the authorized representative to identify directly with our business.
- Describe your request with sufficient detail that allows us to properly understand, evaluate, and respond to it.

We cannot respond to your request or provide you with personal information if we cannot verify your identity or authority to make the request and confirm the personal information relates to you.

You do not need to create an account with us to submit a request to know or delete.

We will only use personal information provided in the request to verify the requestor's identity or authority to make it.

For instructions on exercising your sale opt-out or opt-in rights, see Personal Information Sales Opt-Out and Opt-In Rights.

Response Timing and Format

We will confirm receipt of your request within ten (10) business days. If you do not receive confirmation within the 10-day timeframe, please contact marketing@ifpartners.com.

We endeavor to substantively respond to a verifiable consumer request within forty-five (45) days of its receipt. If we require more time (up to another 45 days), we will inform you of the reason and extension period in writing.

If you have an account with us, we will deliver our written response to that account. If you do not have an account with us, we will deliver our written response by mail or electronically, at your option.

Any disclosures we provide will only cover the 12-month period preceding our receipt of your request. The response we provide will also explain the reasons we cannot comply with a request, if applicable. For data portability requests, we will select a format to provide your personal information that is readily useable and should allow you to transmit the information from one entity to another entity without hindrance.

We do not charge a fee to process or respond to your verifiable consumer request unless it is excessive, repetitive, or manifestly unfounded. If we determine that the request warrants a fee, we will tell you why we made that decision and provide you with a cost estimate before completing your request.

Personal Information Sales Opt-Out and Opt-In Rights

If you are age 16 or older, you have the right to direct us to not sell your personal information at any time (the "right to opt-out"). We do not sell the personal information of consumers we actually know are less than 16 years old. Consumers who opt-in to personal information sales may opt-out of future sales at any time.

To exercise the right to opt-out, you (or your authorized representative) may submit a request to us by visiting the following Internet Web page link:

"DO NOT SELL OR SHARE MY PERSONAL INFORMATION"

Once you make an opt-out request, we will wait at least twelve (12) months before asking you to reauthorize personal information sales. However, you may change your mind and opt back in to personal information sales at any time by:

If you choose to opt-in after we fulfill an opt-out request for selling or sharing your personal information, you may do so by emailing marketing@ifpartners.com and making the request.

You do not need to create an account with us to exercise your opt-out rights. We will only use personal information provided in an opt-out request to review and

Non-Discrimination

We will not discriminate against you for exercising any of your CCPA rights. Unless permitted by the CCPA, we will not:

- Deny you goods or services.
- Charge you different prices or rates for goods or services, including through granting discounts or other benefits, or imposing penalties.
- Provide you a different level or quality of goods or services.
- Suggest that you may receive a different price or rate for goods or services or a different level or quality of goods or services.

However, we may offer you certain financial incentives permitted by the CCPA that can result in different prices, rates, or quality levels. Any CCPA-permitted financial incentive we offer will reasonably relate to your personal information's value and contain written terms that describe the program's material aspects. Participation in a financial incentive program requires your prior opt-in consent, which you may revoke at any time.

Other California Privacy Rights

California's "Shine the Light" law (Civil Code Section § 1798.83) permits users of our Website that are California residents to request certain information regarding our disclosure of personal information to third parties for their direct marketing purposes. To make such a request, please send an email to marketing@ifpartners.com.

CHANGES TO OUR PRIVACY POLICY

We reserve the right to amend this privacy policy at our discretion and at any time. When we make changes to this privacy policy, we will post the updated notice on the Website and update the notice's Last Modified Date. Your continued use of our Website following the posting of changes constitutes your acceptance of such changes.
